

Diversity of Cultures Review

Week 18 • Friday • Show What You Know!

Remember When...

What a journey across North America this week! You learned that hundreds of Native American nations lived here, each with its own name, language, leaders, and culture.

You traveled through the regions: woodlands nations who built with wood and bark, plains nations who followed the buffalo, Southwest nations who built adobe homes and grew corn, and coast nations who fished for salmon in cedar canoes.

You made a culture map, and you discovered which nations lived — and still live — near your own home. Remember the big idea: Native nations were, and are, wonderfully different from one another. Now show what you know!

Big Review Questions

1. Why is it wrong to say all Native American tribes were the same?

2. How did the environment shape each nation's way of life? Give one example.

Fill in the Blanks

hundreds

buffalo

adobe

salmon

environment

languages

1. There were _____ of Native nations in North America.

2. Each nation used what its _____ provided.

3. Plains nations depended on the _____.

4. Southwest homes were made of _____.

5. Coast nations fished for _____.

6. The nations spoke many different _____.

True or False

Write T for true or F for false in each circle.

☐ All the nations shared one single language.

☐ The Hopi lived in the Southwest.

☐ Plains nations followed the buffalo herds.

☐ Coast nations carved cedar canoes.

☐ Some states have Native American names.

☐ Native nations are still here today.

Region Round-Up

Write W (woodlands), P (plains), S (Southwest), or C (coast).

Clue	Region
Buffalo hunting
Adobe houses
Wood-and-bark homes among trees
Salmon fishing

My Favorite Region

Draw the region you found most interesting this week, with details showing how the people there lived.

Week Summary

This week you learned:

- Hundreds of Native nations lived across North America
- Each nation had its own language, leaders, and culture
- The environment shaped food, homes, and travel in each region
- Native nations lived near your home — and still do today

Next week: A closer look at Native American homes, foods, and tools — tipis, longhouses, pueblos, and the clever inventions of daily life!

Final Review

I can...	Circle one
Name nations from different regions	YES / NOT YET
Explain how land shaped ways of life	YES / NOT YET
Tell why diversity is the big idea	YES / NOT YET