

Leaders Review

Week 21 • Friday • Show What You Know!

Remember When...

What amazing people you met this week! You learned that Native nations valued leaders who were wise, brave, and generous — leaders who put their people first.

You met Sacagawea, who guided explorers across the west with her baby on her back. You met Sequoyah, who spent twelve years inventing Cherokee writing with 85 symbols. You met Sitting Bull, who stood strong for the Lakota, and Wilma Mankiller, the first woman Principal Chief of the Cherokee Nation.

You even invented your own symbols and thought about how YOU can lead by standing up for others. Now show what you know!

Big Review Questions

1. Which leader from this week inspired you most? Why?

2. What qualities did Native nations look for in a leader?

Who Did It?

Write the letter: A (Sacagawea), B (Sequoyah), C (Sitting Bull), or D (Wilma Mankiller).

Achievement	A, B, C, or D?
Guided Lewis and Clark with a baby on her back
Invented the Cherokee writing system
Lakota leader who stood strong for his people
First woman Principal Chief of the Cherokee Nation
Face appears on a golden dollar coin
Brought clean water and clinics to villages

Fill in the Blanks

Shoshone symbols Lakota Cherokee brave children

- Sacagawea was a _____ woman.
- Sequoyah invented 85 _____ for Cherokee sounds.
- Sitting Bull was a _____ leader.
- Wilma Mankiller led the _____ Nation.
- Great leaders were wise, generous, and _____.
- Sitting Bull spoke of making a good life for our _____.

True or False

Write T for true or F for false in each circle.

- ☐ Sacagawea rescued papers from a tipping boat.
- ☐ Sequoyah gave up when people laughed at him.
- ☐ Cherokee people printed their own newspaper.
- ☐ Sitting Bull was known for courage and wisdom.
- ☐ Wilma Mankiller became chief in 1985.
- ☐ Standing up for a friend is a kind of leadership.

My Hero Poster

Make a hero poster for your favorite leader from this week — draw them and write their name in big letters.

Week Summary

This week you learned:

- Great leaders were wise, brave, and generous
- Sacagawea guided explorers; Sequoyah invented writing
- Sitting Bull and Wilma Mankiller stood up for their people
- You can be a leader too, right now

Next week: Our final week — how Native American history lives on TODAY, in nations, names, foods, and celebrations all around you!

Final Review

I can...	Circle one
Name four Native American leaders	YES / NOT YET
Tell what each leader did	YES / NOT YET
Explain how I can lead too	YES / NOT YET